TROOPS OUT ON A LARK

PENNSYLVANIA SOLDIERS CHARGED WITH UNLAWFUL ACTS.

Bill for Amount of Losses Involved to Be Presented to the State-Complaints Filed

The Pennsylvania soldiers who came to Washington to the number of 9,000 and participated in the inaugural parade have gone to their homes. While these troops did not do as much damage as they did at a previous inauguration, there were losses-in many instances amounting to but little-incurred by a number of people. Major Sylvester has invited all those who suffered losses at the hands of the soldiers to make the necessary affidavits and file their claims for damages, as was done once before, upon which occasion the state of Pennsylvania paid many thousands of dollars as damages.

A number of the Pennsylvanians who were quartered in Convention Hall started out yesterday afternoon for a lark, going north on 7th street instead of visiting Pennsylvania avenue. They had gone but a short distance when they began tossing colored people in their army blankets, and treating fruit and peanut stands as if they were free lunch counters in bar rooms. Several colored people were met by the soldiers who, not being willing to submit to their indignities, turned upon the wearers of the uniforms, and some of the latter were bruised and scarred. One of them was cut in the leg with a clever, while another came near losing three fingers when a knife was used on him. The former was given hospital treatment, but the latter, evidently endeavoring to conceal his identity, refused to go to a hospital.

Complaints Entered.

It is said that after a visit from the soldiers John Whalen's saloon at 1213 7th Carrie Nation and her followers. The incigars and several bottles of whisky, and cigars left the place satisfied. At one fruit stand near the K street market the Penntered complaint at headquarters yesterday against soldiers supposed to belong in a party of soldiers entered his store, and not satisfied with taking what clears and tobacco they wanted, they robbed the
